

2019 Canada Gairdner International Award

NOMINATION DEADLINE: October 1, 2018

How to Nominate

All nominations are submitted through the Gairdner Nominations Portal which can be accessed via www.gairdner.org. The individual serving as the primary nominator will create a nominator profile on the site which allows them to submit a nomination.

Selection Process

Nominations for the international awards are reviewed on two levels. A Medical Review Panel (MRP), made up of 30 active Canadian researchers in various fields, review and prepare a short list of potential recipients from the nominations received.

A Medical Advisory Board (MAB) comprised of a diverse group of 28 eminent Canadian and international scientists select the recipients by secret ballot for recommendation to the Gairdner Board of Directors. Dr. Janet Rossant (Gairdner President & Scientific Director) chairs the MAB.

All nominations will be maintained for a period of five (5) years. If the nominee is not selected for an award after 5 years, a two (2) year waiting period must be observed before a nomination is resubmitted. Under exceptional circumstances, this waiting period can be waived at the discretion of the President.
